Foreword

The University of Ruhuna located in the heart of the Southern Province constitutes the brain trust and the intellectual pulse of the region. Standing robustly on an undulating and scenic hillock at Wellamadama with a unique and impressive architectural landscape, this seat of higher learning is committed to quality education, high impact research, strategic partnership with industry and community development. Following its humble beginning in 1978 with four faculties, - Agriculture, Humanities & Social Sciences, Medicine and Science, with about 40 academics, 50 non-academics and 275 students, it has made great strides in the past twenty five years in the academic, research and out-reach spheres, and has achieved enviable growth in intellectual and infrastructure resources.

Presently, it has seven faculties including the Faculty of Engineering and the recently founded Faculties of Management & Finance and Fisheries, Marine Sciences & Technology - the first of its kind in the country, thereby emerging as a leader of higher education in Sri Lanka. The university has a total of about 400 academics, 800 non-academics and about 7000 students, and has hitherto produced nearly 15,000 graduates. Establishment of a business incubator with strategic alliance with industry; a Centre for Modern Languages & Civilisations to teach Tamil and important foreign languages; Centre for International Affairs which co-ordinates international linkages; Centre for Conflict Resolution to develop programmes and activities for social and inter-cultural harmony; Cultural Centre to support cultural activities and develop artistic skills of students; and setting up of a service laboratory providing analytical and testing services to the public and private sector institutions are some of the other major recent developments. A Centre for Relief, Rehabilitation and Reconstruction studies was temporarily established in January 2005 to meet the urgent needs of post-Tsunami activities. An Information & Out-reach Centre has also been recently established. Centres for Early Childhood Development and Indigenous Knowledge are to be considered for development in the next phase.

The university has an English Language Teaching Unit, a Career Guidance Unit, an Office for Graduate Studies, an External Degrees Unit, a Staff Development Unit and a Computer Unit at present. The Graduate Studies Office will be upgraded to a Graduate Studies Unit.

The University of Ruhuna won two Quality Enhancement Fund (QEF) grants by competitive bidding for Rs. 130.5 million (Faculty of Medicine – Rs. 92 million and the Department of Economics – 38.5 million) and obtained Rs. 45.9 million under the Institutional Block Grant (IBG) for English Language Teaching (Rs. 20 million), Information Technology (Rs. 17.2 million), Learning Environment (Rs. 10.1 million) and Social Harmony (Rs. 8.6 million) under the Improving Relevance & Quality in Undergraduate Education (IRQUE) Project.

In the past, university education generally prepared a student for a career of life, but now, we need to prepare a student for a life of careers. This means, in addition to knowledge in a specific field, a graduate must possess multiple skills and competencies, including conceptual, analytical and critical thinking and the habit and enthusiasm for lifelong learning, which include discovering, creating and applying new knowledge all through life.

The problems man is confronted with today are often very complex and multi-faced, needing a multi-disciplinary approach to resolve them. We need to gradually dismantle boundaries between departments and faculties and form dynamic, inter-disciplinary groups by regular interactions of academics in departments and faculties. This would ensure free flow, movement and cross-fertilization of ideas and confluence of talents across disciplines, which is likely to give birth to a new academic enterprise in the university. Such an endeavour will ensure development of a critical mass for innovation, enhance complementarity, reduce duplication of resources and improve rationalization of both human and physical resources. This would enable us to offer novel and innovative under-graduate and post-graduate degree programmes catering to emerging needs in a globalised economy.

This Corporate Plan has been developed to further strengthen the performance of the university. It gives a profile of the institution, situation analysis, our Vision, Mission, Goals, Objectives, Strategies and Action Plans reflecting the directions in which the university intends to move over the period 2007-2011. It also provides a basis for annual review of plans and performances at institutional level and establishes the planning parameters within which the university officers, heads of faculties/departments/units and others are expected to develop functional plans for their areas of responsibility.

This Corporate Plan was developed by a committee appointed by the Senate/Council. Preparation of the Corporate Plan was through a participatory process in which academic, administrative and non-academic sectors of the university community were involved. It is intended to be a rolling plan, which would change on. Institutional reviews, client response, availability of resources and global trends.

The university will pursue all aspects of the Corporate Plan vigorously to meet its set goals.

Vice Chancellor

THE INSTITUTION

Ruhuna has been the cradle of national scholars and heroes who launched an era of national prosperity and heralded the golden age of Buddhism and culture. The Ruhuna has been a hive of educational and literary activity. The idea of establishing a university in the South has been mooted from the days of the National Council of Higher Education (1966 – 1972).

Effective steps for the establishment of a university institution, however, were taken only in 1977 with the coming into power of a new government. In October 1977, a committee was appointed by the Minister of Education to look into the feasibility of establishing a campus of the former University of Sri Lanka in the South. This committee was headed by late Prof. M.B. Ariyapala, and consisted of leading senior academics of the country. The committee was expected to make recommendations on the suitable siting of the proposed university campus, and on the faculties and courses of study to be established and other related matters.

The report of the committee dated January 4th, 1978 proposed the establishment of a university campus consisting of five faculties, viz. Agriculture, Engineering, Humanities & Social Sciences, Medicine and Science under the former University of Sri Lanka. Based on this report, proposals were made to the Cabinet of Ministers regarding the establishment of a campus in the South. These proposals laid down that the main centre of the university should be established in Matara, along with the Faculties of Humanities & Social Sciences and Science. The Faculty of Agriculture was to be established in the Mapalana farm, Kamburupitiya, with additional land from the adjoining Ratalankawa Estate. The Faculty of Medicine was to be established in Galle in conjunction with the new Galle Teaching Hospital being built in Karapitiya, Galle. The recommendation of the committee regarding the establishment of a Faculty of Engineering was left to be implemented at a later stage, due to the acute shortage of engineering teachers experienced by the already established Faculties of Engineering of Sri Lanka.

On the 27th of August 1978, the Ruhuna Campus of the former University of Sri Lanka, with the four faculties referred to was ceremonially declared open by the Prime Minister of the time, Mr. J.R. Jayawardene fulfilling a long cherished desire of the people of the South to have a university in the region. Meanwhile, the structure of higher education was being reviewed, and the government decided to replace the former single University of Sri Lanka with six campuses with a system of independent universities, university colleges, campuses and institutions. Accordingly, under the Universities Act No. 16 of 1978, the status Ruhuna campus was converted to that of a University College. This meant that the four faculties of the Ruhuna University College came to be affiliated to corresponding faculties of older universities. Thus, the Faculties of Arts and Medicine were affiliated to the corresponding faculties of the University of Colombo, while Agriculture was affiliated to the Faculty of Agriculture of the University of Peradeniya, and the Faculty of Science, University of Kelaniya.

The Ruhuna University College was elevated to full university status as from 1st February 1984 and its first Vice Chancellor was Prof. G.P. Samarawickrema. The Ven. Pandit Paravahera Pannananda, B.A. (London), Hony. D. Litt. (Sri J'Pura) was appointed Chancellor of the new university on the 12th February 1984.

Following its humble beginning in 1978 with four faculties, Agriculture, Arts, Medicine and Science, with about 40 academics, 50 non-academics and 275 students, the University of Ruhuna has made great strides in the past twenty five years in the academic, research and out-reach spheres, achieving enviable growth in academic stature and intellectual and infrastructure resources. Presently, it has seven faculties including Faculty of Engineering (established in 1999) at Hapugala, Galle and Faculty of Management and Finance (2003) and Faculty of Fisheries, Marine Science & Technology, both at Wellamadama.

UNIVERSITY CREST, UNIVERSITY COLOURS AND THE UNIVERSITY FLAG

University Crest

The university crest consists of an outline of Sri Lanka below which there is a simple traditional earthenware lamp (pahana), the flame of which rises from near the centre of the southern coastline (where the main campus is located) and its effulgence, represented by short, straight, radiating lines, appears to light up the whole island. These are circumscribed by two concentric ovals with their vertical sides straight, exterior to which, on the upper half runs the motto 'panna naranam ratanam' (wisdom to mankind is a treasure), and on the lower half, the inscription 'ruhuna visva vidyalaya' ('University of Ruhuna'), both in Sinhala characters. Another similar oval, but in bolder line runs round the lettering enclosing the whole design.

University Colours:

The official colours of the Ruhuna University are gold and chocolate brown.

University Flag:

The flag of the University is composed of two equal and horizontally disposed stripes in gold and chocolate brown, with the former on the top. On the mastward top quarter (i.e. on the background of gold) is the crest, also in chocolate brown.
